

---

Acknowledgements

The document of which this book is an elaboration was a paper prepared for Ministers and Senior Officials at the 17th Conference of Commonwealth Education Ministers (CCEM), held in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. A version of the CCEM paper was published in The Round Table (vol. 98, no. 405, December 2009). David Atchoarena, Dave Bainton, Mindy Colin and Michaela Martin made substantial contributions to that paper, and Terra Sprague made a significant contribution to this publication. Appreciation is expressed to them all, as well as to Alex Wright and the Commonwealth Secretariat in London for its consistent support and for facilitating the funding of the research process. In addition, the authors thank the following people for comments on and/or contributions to early versions of various sections of the manuscript:

Dr Willie Ako, formerly First Secretary, Ministry of National Planning, Papua New Guinea

Hon. Nahas Angula, Prime Minister, Republic of Namibia

Mr J Alexander Bennett, Belize University and Ministry of Education

Sir John Daniel, President and Chief Executive Officer, Commonwealth of Learning

Ms Paula Edwards, Primary School Principal, Anguilla

Ms Joan Fleming, Primary School Deputy Principal, Anguilla

Dr Beatrice Fulford, Permanent Secretary for Education, Turks and Caicos Islands

Dr Hubert Fulford, formerly Executive Permanent Secretary, Turks and Caicos Islands

Dr Pauline Greaves, Commonwealth Secretariat

Ms Avenella Griffith, Primary Education Teacher and School Business Department Head, Anguilla

Ms Jasmine Hodge-Thomas, Primary School Principal, Anguilla

Dr Keith Holmes, formerly European Training Foundation and now UNESCO

Dr Guy LeFanu, Goroka University, Papua New Guinea and University of Bristol

HE Dame Pearlette Louisy, Governor-General, St Lucia

Ms Florence Malinga, Commonwealth Secretariat

Dr Monica Masino, Programme Co-ordinator, University of the West Indies, Open Campus

Professor Simon McGrath, University of Nottingham

Ms Michele Mills, Doctoral Researcher (Trinidad and Tobago), University of Bristol

---

Dr Gairo Onagi, Vice Chancellor, University of Goroka, Papua New Guinea
Dr Nkobi Pansiri, University of Botswana
Mr Paul Payne, Principal, Montserrat Community College
Mr Jonathan Penson, Commonwealth Secretariat
Dr Michele Schweisfurth, University of Birmingham
Ms Maya Soonarane, Planning Division, Ministry of Education, Culture and Human Resources, Mauritius
Professor David Stephens, University of Brighton
Mrs Shawanda Stockfelt, Doctoral Researcher (Jamaica), University of Bristol
Dr William Tagis, Director General, Papua New Guinea, Office of Higher Education
Dr Om Varma, Mauritius Institute of Education
Hon. Matthew Wale, former Minister of Education, Solomon Islands

Further thanks are expressed to participants in the Advanced Training Programme (ATP) at the UNESCO International Institute for Educational Planning (IIEP) from Antigua and Barbuda, Botswana, Bhutan, Brunei Darussalam, Comoros, Fiji Islands, Lesotho, Tonga, Tuvalu and Vanuatu.