

Acknowledgments

This Judicial Resource Book on Violence Against Women for Asia was produced in partnership with the Commonwealth Secretariat and UN Women under the auspices of the Commonwealth Fund for Technical Co-operation.

The first draft of the Judicial Resource Book was reviewed and commented upon by several individuals and organisations, especially Kemi Ogunsanya (Commonwealth Secretariat, London), Roberta Clarke and Deepa Bharathi (UN Women). Their input and insights are invaluable and are appreciated. The helpful comments from Ayesha Sen Choudhury (International Women's Rights Action Watch Asia Pacific, Malaysia) and the role and contribution of Advocate Sara Hossain and Maherin Islam Khan are acknowledged and highly appreciated.

The efforts and assistance received from the Human Rights Unit of the Commonwealth Secretariat and the Violence against Women Unit of UN Women is enormous and is eminently appreciated. Special thanks are due to Diana Cooper, Melissa Alvarado and Andrea Nyberg for their efforts and assistance from start to finish on the process of producing this book. The efforts and support of the Head of the Human Rights Unit at the Commonwealth Secretariat, Karen McKenzie, are laudable.

The hard work of the Gender Team at the Commonwealth Secretariat and the UN Women CEDAW and Violence against Women Units must be acknowledged. Without their initiative and efforts, the project would not have seen the light of day. The contribution made by delegates of various workshops organised by the Commonwealth Secretariat and UN Women is particularly welcomed and acknowledged. We received a number of documents from participants at these workshops as well. Their comments and input certainly contributed to the quality of this book. We are also grateful to Mr Justice Qaiser Rashid Khan for his insights.

We are also grateful to delegates of Australian Aid, Canadian Aid and UNDP for their participation and contribution to the workshop on 3–4 May 2016 in Bangkok. We are grateful to Dr Khurshid Iqbal, District and Sessions Judge, Pakistan for reviewing the section on Pakistan and providing very useful comments.

Finally, we are very grateful to Sheila Varadan, the consultant for UN Women, responsible for writing the Cambodia and Thailand sections in chapters 5–8. Ms Varadan is a human rights lawyer and currently a PhD candidate at Leiden University in the Netherlands focusing on international child rights law.

Dr Niaz A Shah

Dr Shah is a Reader/Associate Professor in Law at the School of Law and Politics, University of Hull, United Kingdom. Dr Shah is also a barrister practising from Nexus Chambers, Lincoln's Inn, London.